

Welcome to the tenth Inter-haul customer e-newsletter. We are delighted to report the award of some new warehousing business which will commence a little later this month. Our capacity to provide warehousing expertise combined with a full range of transport services was crucial to achieving this new business. Our customers really do achieve significant cost benefit through our professional management of our storage and distribution resources. Give us a call today to find out more.

Reduce Cost with Inter-haul Warehousing & Distribution

Did you know that outsourcing your warehousing requirements to Inter-haul also delivers savings in your transport spend? Customers who warehouse with Inter-haul spend less money on transport because consignments can be picked and go straight from warehouse to Pallet-Track trunking vehicle. It's a very efficient way to manage distribution and Inter-hauls expertise in warehousing and associated services returns a cost benefit rarely seen in an in-house operation. Inter-haul provide first class storage, handling, pick & pack, and consolidation from our distribution centre in South Wales. Through Pallet-Track, we also offer warehousing services throughout the entire UK.

And you thought the snow was bad?!!

With all the snow we have been having recently, we thought we would give a mention to Ryan Waite who has had nothing but snow for the last three-months. You may remember Ryan from his employment as a Warehouse Supervisor here at Inter-haul. Although enjoying his time with us, Ryan took the decision to pursue his dream of becoming a Snowboarding Instructor and In November 2008 set off to Verbier in the Swiss Alps, to undertake an intensive course of training and examinations. Taking on the Level II Snowboarding Instructors Course is no picnic. It requires highly advanced snowboarding skills such as, switch riding, freestyle, varied terrain, carving and off piste riding. In order to teach theory and technique, there is also a great deal of technical knowledge to be learnt. In addition to snowboarding itself, Ryan has had to learn to teach and to give technically sound demonstrations at a very advanced level. You'll be pleased to hear that Ryan has passed his course with flying colours and is now a Qualified Level II Snowboarding Instructor. Ryan has already secured a short-term instructing assignment in Italy, and will then move on to teach at other resorts. With snowboarding a very popular activity around the world it is difficult to predict where Ryan will end up next. The smile on his face says it all. Ryan is now doing what he really enjoys and is making a career out of it. Good for you Ryan we wish you well.

Inter-haul and the Local Community

One of the most important things we can give to our children is education and throughout the UK, Parent Teacher Associations work to support schools by providing extra learning resources. One such establishment is Wyedean School and Sixth Form Centre, based just outside of Chepstow. The Friends of Wyedean School Association (FOWSA) consists of volunteer parents and school staff who all work hard raising money for the school. Some of the items provided by FOWSA include: a school minibus; sports equipment; library books; music stands; home economics items. In 2008, FOWSA put up the £6000 required for a much needed canteen extension. This project has helped to ensure that school pupils can get a decent meal in good time during the lunch break. Imagine trying to squeeze 1200 hungry pupils through your dining room within the space of an hour! Inter-haul recognise the value of education and the opportunities it affords. Today's school pupils will be tomorrow's workforce. Inter-haul are pleased to support FOWSA and contribute to this community minded activity. To find out more about FOWSA visit www.wyedean.net.

A Very Big Thank You

Inter-haul would like to say thank you to all of our drivers and staff, who despite the recent severe weather and snow all managed to report for work every day and on time. Furthermore all of our collections and deliveries were discharged safely and on time. An organisation is made up of people and we recognise that we have the best people in the industry in our company. Our customers know that Inter-haul and our employees will continually strive to safely maintain the highest quality of service, whatever adversity arises.

Caption Competition

Our congratulations to Karen at Bathroom Express who's risqué, but extremely funny entry won a bottle of wine in our caption competition.

If you really do need to see Karen's caption, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope, together with two forms of ID and Proof of Age to Inter-haul!!

COMPETITION CORNER

With Valentine's Day on 14th, February is a time of romance, but do you recognise the famous couple in the photo. A bottle of wine for the first correct answer drawn. Closing date for entries is 13th March. Email answers to jonathan@interhaul.co.uk
